

Hi,

We hope all is well. Presented below is our latest Durian Projects Newsletter covering key news involving durian.

The big news in this edition of our newsletter comes from China which has launched the world's first standards for Malaysian durian, the Malaysian Durian Certification Implementation Rules (MDCI). The standards implemented will help to fight against fraudulent practices of faking the durian origin, as traders would now be required to obtain the Malaysian Durian Certification to authenticate its origin. Sellers in China often pretend Thai durians are Malaysian in order to charge higher prices.

In other news, the land border with Singapore has finally opened which will boost durian trade significantly. Over 40,000 travelers cleared the Woodlands and Tuas checkpoints on the first day of the border opening on April 1st, with over 400,000 travelers in the first week of its opening.

We are currently taking reservation for our durian plantation tours with slots going quickly. For those of you interested in visiting us in Johor, please let us know as soon as possible via email or contacting your representative.

We look forward to meeting you all soon.

Best Regards,
Durian Projects Group
